Foreword

Our book: We the Senior Class of 1956 present to you our yearbook. We have crowded into it memories of our high school days at Jefferson. We hope it may bring back pleasant memories and smiles to all who read it.

In our high school days we have found that life consists of more than books and classroom knowledge, papers, and tests. We have learned to think, to assume responsibility, and to live together. We have played in the field of sports, taken our roles on the stage, marched in the band, sung in the glee club, and delved in salesmanship of magazines, cards, and refreshments. Parties and activities all have been a part of our education.

We have enjoyed our years together at Jefferson and shall always remember our school, our teachers, and parents who helped us toward an enriched life.

DEDICATION

In Appreciation

Of Miss Blanche Aspy, who willingly gave of her time, energy, and patience in assisting the students of Jefferson High School when they needed assistance most. Thanks to you, Miss Aspy, from the Senior Class of 1956.

In Memory of

We, the class of 1956, dedicate this annual to the memory of Lyle D. Tumbleson who gave his life in the service of his country June 10, 1955.

Last Will and Testament

I, Patsy Bollenbacher, will my red hair to Wayne Weaver with the condition that he has as much trouble keeping it neat as I do; and, to Bonnie Dague my big feet in the hopes that she likes them better than I do.

I, Phil Hammitt, will to Paul Zeher my curly hair.

I, Virginia Baker, will my glasses to anyone who thinks they can see through them.

I, Rose Ann Marble, will my ability to be engaged to Karen Smitley and my musical talents to Wayne Weaver.

I, Ann Luginbill, will my black hair to Sharon Marble.

I, Dorothy Frank, will my shortness to Paul Zehr and my ability not to like Home Ec. to anyone who can get away with it.

I, Arlene Sommer, will Karen Smitley my ability to get my hair cut short and like it, and to Bob Crandall to eat all he wants and not gain weight.

I, Rachael Stolz, will my fast driving to Carl Baker providing he arrives places on time. And, my curly hair to Bob Crandall providing he keeps it curled.

I, Kenneth Swan, will my black Ford Limousine to Paul Zehr providing he races at least once a day and to Sharon Marble my large shoes.

I, Bob Caffee, will my ability to play basketball to Bob Crandall, my grades to Wayne Weaver, and my Mercury to anyone that thinks they can pay for it.

I, Fred Lehman, will my ability to finish my typing on time to Carl Baker and my seat in the bass section of Glee Club to Bob Crandall.

I, Wayne Bollenbacher, will my typing drawer to anyone who can get all of their books and papers in it.

I, Bill Smitley, will my height to Paul Zehr.

I, Carl Wellman will my ability to go steady to Paul Zehr, my red hair to Sharon Marble, and my Clerical Office Practice to anyone stupid enough to take it.

I, Colleen Egly, will my clarinet to anyone who will practice as much as I do, and my nickname, "Buttons" to Sharon Marble.

The Junior Class Prophecy

As we were taking a business tour in the year of 1966, we visited many of the points of interest we had studied in school. We were surprised to meet some of our former schoolmates.

Our first stop was Washington D. C. When we checked in for the night at the hotel, we were surprised to find that Rose Ann Marble was our hotel clerk. After talking with her for awhile we retired to our rooms.

The next morning we began our tour of the city with Phillip Hammitt as our guide. He first took us to the White House to see President Wayne Bollenbacher. Wayne invited us to spend the evening with him and his wife, the former Arlene Sommer.

Our guide then took us to a cozy little cafe, called the "Dortbill Cafe," where we had lunch. The name did not strike us until Phil told us the proud proprietors were Dorothy Frank and Ann Luginbill.

We returned to our hotel to prepare for the evening. After a luscious dinner, Wayne asked if we would be interested in attending a Washington Senators ball game. We told him we would and we were very much surprised to see Bill Smitley as their famous star.

For our last day in Washington D. C., Phil suggested that we visit the F. B. I. Much to our amazement we found that Carl Wellman is now taking the place of J. Edgar Hoover.

We grabbed our bags, loaded into our car, and started for New York. Just as we were passing a beautiful little country church we saw the familiar faces of Bob Caffee and Patsy Bollenbacher appearing from the door. You could tell by their happy expressions that the "knot" had just been tied. While we were talking to them they told us they were going to make their home in Ohio, but they thought it would be nice to come out here to have their former classmate, the Reverend Kenneth Swan, perform the ceremony.

We had not gone far until we were involved in a minor car accident. We were taken to a near-by physician's office for a checkup. We were much surprised to find Frederick Lehman as our friendly doctor.

As we reached the outskirts of New York we were startled to see every billboard announcing the personal appearance of the famed movie star, Rachael Stolz. They say she is the second Jane Russell.

We spent that night resting comfortably in a hotel, but the next morning we were anxious to start sight-seeing. While we were visiting around we heard there was to be a Ladies' Wrestling Championship Match that evening. This interested us, so we planned to attend. Who do you suppose came forth when the bell rang? None other than Colleen Egly and Virginia Baker. As we talked to them in their dressing rooms, they told us it was hard to wrestle against classmates.

We the class of 1957 wish you the class of 1956 the best of luck!

Senior Class History

In the fall of nineteen hundred and forty-four our class comprised of twenty-eight members began our school career with Mrs. Madeline Steinbrunner as our teacher. Miss Kenney was our teacher in the third grade. Mr. Robert Paxson and Mrs. Ruby Miller were our teachers in the fifth and sixth grades, respectively.

When we entered Junior High School, our class had decreased to twenty members. We elected class officers and we then started functioning as a class.

With Mrs. Nell Lee as our sponsor we began our journey through high school in nineteen hundred fifty-two with nineteen members. The day of our initiation was packed with fun and in the evening, the Sophomores took us on a hayride.

Our Sophomore year was a busy one! Mr. Fred Hoagland was our sponsor until Christmas, at which time he left us and was replaced by Earl Hartmen. We were in charge of initiating the Freshmen and had them dress for P. T. A. We sponsored a chile supper which was very successful. We sold magazines to earn money for our class trip.

Our sponsor for our Junior year was Mr. Frederick Beeson. Rachel Stolz and Colleen Egly were chosen as cheerleaders for the first team. We again sold magazines and also greeting cards. A highlight of the year was the Junior-Senior Reception that began with a supper at the Dutch Mill in Bluffton with the class of nineteen hundred fifty-five as our guests. Following the supper most of us went to Fort Wayne. As a climax to our school year, we took our class trip with the Seniors to Washington D. C.

Last fall we joyfully entered our last year at Jefferson with fifteen members left in our class. We elected the following officers: President, Rose Ann Marble; Vice-President, Carl Wellman; Secretary, Patsy Bollenbacher; and Treasurer, Bill Smitley. We edited the Jeffersonian.

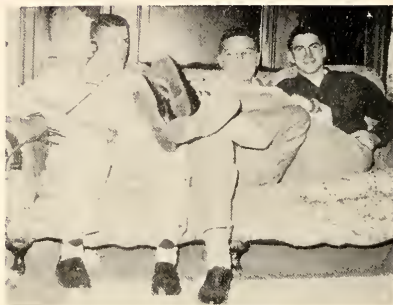

Fred Lehman, Wayne Bollenbacher, Bill Smitley, Bob Caffee, Phil Hammitt, and Carl Wellman represented our class on the varsity basketball team and other sports.

The students that have attended Jefferson Township school twelve years are: Virginia Baker, Colleen Egly, Phillip Hammitt, Fred Lehman, Rose Ann Marble, Bill Smitley, and Rachael Stolz. The rest of our class join with them in wishing to all graduates of the future, "good luck, good health, and happiness."

Junior Class History

In the fall of nineteen hundred and fifty-three, ten members entered high school. Mr. Prichard Amstutz was our sponsor. We lost two members leaving eight to enter the Sophomore year, under the sponsorship of Mr. Edward Gard. This year seven started the Junior year, which has proved to be very busy and exciting. Mr. James Wiekel was our sponsor. We chose the following class officers: Carl Baker, President; Paul Zehr, Vice-President; Sharon Marble, Secretary; Karen Smitley, Treasurer; and Bonnie Dague, Assistant Treasurer.

Creed of the Homemaking Department

Homemaking Stands For:

The ideal home life for today not held back by the tradition of the past.

The use of the resources of modern science to improve home life.

High ideals for our families and the ability to keep them above things of lesser importance.

A home of simplicity and beauty, which will free our minds and time to further interest of family and community needs.

The junior and senior girls have had in their homemaking class this year personal grooming, textiles and fabrics, advanced clothing construction, tailoring, and family living.

The freshmen and sophomore girls have been busy the first semester in their food preservation, buying family food, and preparation of family meals projects. The second semester they will be equally busy studying home nursing and child care and development.

The junior high girls have had an interesting course of study which was: personal grooming, planning and preparation of school lunches, making Christmas toys, clothing construction, and helping in the care of the home.

For the first time in several years there was a boys' homemaking class. Among the things they studied were the selection and purchase of clothing, meal planning and preparation, and family living.

Farm Shop

The primary purpose of the school farm shop is to instruct the Vocational Agriculture boys in doing small jobs on the farm and learning desirable methods for the efficient and economical care of farm equipment, which will reduce time and expense and result in a more equal distribution of farm labor.

So that the boys will get actual experience about future work on the farm, the shop combines vocational experience with classroom instruction.
